

Diploma in Accounting & Financial Management

Who We Are

Headquartered in Cyprus with an international outlook, the European Institute of Management and Finance (EIMF) is an accredited Higher Education Institution and a leading provider of academic, professional, and executive education.

EIMF combines academic excellence with practical relevance, delivering programmes that prepare students for real opportunities in today's business and financial world.

A Powerful Advantage

Eligible graduates of the Diploma in Accounting & Financial Management can progress to Southampton Solent University.

Southampton
Solent
University

They can enter directly into the final year, complete a Bachelor's degree in Accountancy and Finance in one additional year in the UK, and receive a 20% discount on final-year tuition fees, subject to entry requirements.

Highlights

Academic Knowledge

- Gain a strong understanding of financial reporting, management accounting, taxation, finance, and business law.
- Build analytical, quantitative, and decision-making skills for today's financial environment.
- Develop knowledge of governance, compliance, and ethical financial practice.

Practical Perspective

- Learn through case studies, simulations, practical exercises, and applied financial scenarios.
- Strengthen your ability to analyse financial data, assess risk, and support business decisions.
- Build skills that are directly relevant to accounting, audit, and finance-related roles.

What is Accounting and Financial Management?

Accounting and financial management focus on how organisations record, analyse, manage, and use financial information to support performance, compliance, and growth. It combines financial reporting, budgeting, forecasting, taxation, investment analysis, and business decision-making, equipping students with skills that are essential across modern financial environments.

Why Study Accounting & Financial Management?

This diploma equips students with the technical expertise, practical confidence, and career progression opportunities needed to succeed in a competitive financial world.

Is this Programme Right for You?

Here are some of the professionals who would benefit from pursuing EIMF's Diploma in Accounting & Financial Management:

School Leavers

Working Professionals

Career Changers

Apiring finance specialists seeking practical, career-focused knowledge in accounting, finance, and business decision-making.

Your Prospects Upon Graduation

Graduates will be well-positioned for roles in accounting, financial analysis, audit support, taxation, corporate finance, and wider financial services environments, while also opening the door to further academic and professional progression.

Benefit from exemptions from AAT, ACCA, and ICAEW, with the opportunity to achieve the AAT qualification through just two additional exams.

Programme Information

Curriculum & Content

The programme follows a structured two-year journey covering business awareness, business English, mathematics and statistics, economics, finance, financial accounting, management accounting, business law, accounting information systems, management, advanced accounting, corporate law, governance, taxation, audit, financial reporting, investment analysis, and financial management.

At a Glance

- Degree | Diploma Programme
- Scope | 120 ECTS
- Duration | 2 Years (Full-time)
- Language | English
- Time | 17:30 – 20:30
- Location | Nicosia, Cyprus
- Delivery Mode | Face-to-face Evening Classes

Fees

- Application Fee: €50
- Registration Fee: €200
- Tuition Fees: €10,500
- Scholarships & Financial Aid Available

Teaching Methodology

Teaching combines in-class lectures, case studies, practical exercises, simulations, group work, and computer-assisted learning. Students engage with real business scenarios, accounting tools, and problem-based activities that build confidence in financial reporting, analysis, planning, and decision-making, supported by interactive teaching, industry insight, and continuous academic guidance throughout the programme